The pretense that he wants to place himself right before the Utab Gentiles is far-letched. It will not hold water. Mr. Sargent knows that he cares no more for the Utah Gentiles to day than he did half-a-dozen years ago, if indeed, he cares as much. He knows they are less inflacential in the nation now than they have been at any time within a decade, and understands that their opposition to the Mormon Courch is not nearly so united or potent to-day as it was a few years ago. The new-paper organ which he epdeavors to conciliate hes said very little concern.

Sargent. Other journalists will, doubtless, do the same thing. He has invited it, and opened the door for a deserved scoring, provided the newspapers deem him of sufficient importance to justify an assault. In Mr. Sargent's letter there was nothing in particular sam that any person occupying a position similar to the place held by Mr. cargent might not say. He simply declares—perhaps with more vehemence and greater point-doese than is consistent with his past course—that he is opposed.

motive is it is not difficult to divine. His name has been mentioned as likely to be tavorably considered for a cabinet position in the coming administration, and we tear the gentleman's ambition has led him into the error of indulging in a little demagogism. Witnessing the little flurry caused by Mr. Hayes' message, he may imagine he sees in the near fature an anti-Mormon storm, in which it will be unpopular and fatal to the hopes of political aspirants to be found in advocacy of even justice and reason in the treatment of the religious problem of the country. Stalwart War on Garfield. Chicago, 29 - Times' Washington: It is a matter of current belief here that a condict is inevitable between Garfield and the stalwarts. They overetimate their own importance, and if they cannot have everything their way they will make trouble. They have a theory that Garfield is timid, and that he can be easily buildoosed. They will seek an early opportunity to test their strength against him if he does not abjectly yield in advance to their imperious demands

BRIEF TELEGRAMS

The snowstorm on the Potom c has been unequalled since 1857. The Greek frontier arbitration ou stion is still agitating the powers. The reported wreck on the Telas Pacific Railroad was a canard.
